OBJECTIVE

With over three years of experience in Flutter, I have honed my skills in mobile app development to a professional level. My journey in Flutter has allowed me to master cross-platform app development, enabling me to create seamless and efficient mobile applications that work on both iOS and Android. As I continue to expand my expertise, I am eager to embrace the full stack development realm, where I can leverage my Flutter background to create robust, user-friendly web applications and become a well-rounded Full Stack developer.
